Join Handyman.co.uk

We specialise in providing businesses and home owners good value and professional repairs and improvements for their property.

We are not a lead generating internet site where you find yourself competing with other members for work. All of our trades people have their own post code area.

One of the main reasons, besides quality workmanship, why customers choose Handyman.co.uk as their preferred tradesmen is that, in the unlikely event of substandard workmanship by any of our trades people, we will rectify it at our own expense.

Handyman Services

We provide a professional, courteous, quality service at a competitive price. We specialise in those small jobs that just never seem to get done; however, we also undertake those more ambitious projects such as a new kitchen, bathroom, or an extension of your living space.

Our Guarantee

In the unlikely event of substandard workmanship by any of our trades people, we will rectify it at our own expense, so there is no risk to you as a customer.
